MetLife Auto & Home®

With insurance from MetLife Auto & Home, you could get more* protection for your auto, your home — and your budget. It features the coverage you need for your most important possessions at special employee discounts that could save you up to 10%. But, that's just the beginning.

Whether you got auto insurance or homeowners insurance — or both — from MetLife Auto & Home, you'd be eligible for discounts based on years of service with your employer that could save you an additional 20%. You'd also be eligible for a discount if you had multiple policies.

In addition, because this is an employee benefit, you can choose to have payments automatically deducted from your paychecks. Subject to any required down payment, your payments would be spread over the policy term, making them more manageable and affordable.
